

Working at the OECD

---

The U.S. Government (USG) encourages qualified Americans to seek employment with the OECD. The USG supports equal opportunity in employment, which is also a fundamental principle of the OECD's human resources policies.

The OECD does require prospective employment candidates to hold OECD member country nationality.

Interested candidates can consult the Human Resources Management ( <http://www.oecd.org/hrm> ) page on the OECD website.

Information on how the U.S. Government can support U.S. citizen applicants' candidacies and on positions with other international organizations can be viewed via the State Department's website : ( <http://www.state.gov/p/io/empl/> )