The United States is a founding Member of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD). The U.S. Mission to the OECD provides policy analysis and information to the U.S. Government based on the work of the OECD. It also ensures that the decisions taken by the OECD reflect the priorities of the U.S. Government and that the research done at the OECD is effectively disseminated and shared throughout the respective U.S. Government departments and agencies, the public and other interested stakeholders.

Journalists may contact the U.S. Mission Public Affairs for more information on the OECD and U.S. Mission to the OECD:
